The Consumer Confidence Indicator, based on the “Consumer Confidence Survey”, is computed as the arithmetic average of four balances, each one of quarter weight, relating to the assessment of individuals regarding: (1) Household financial situation; (2) General economic situation; (3) Number of unemployed; and (4) Savings of household, over the next twelve months.

The Consumer Confidence Indicator (CCI) has a range from -100 to 100.

For definitions and explanation.